FORMER CROWN PRINCE LOST TOUCH WITH DAD

LONDON. Nov. 27. (By the Associated Press.)—The former German crown prince had not seen or heard from his father for weeks up to the time he was taken to the island of Wieringen, according to an interview he gave to newspaper men while on his way through Holiand to his present home in the Zuyder Zee island. He said his wife would remain in Germany. "A change is coming in Germany, but one has to be careful about prophesying," he replied to a question as to what he thought of the revolution in Germany.

Will you return to Germany?" was "Will you return to Germany! was the next question.
"Yes, when the situation changes, but when—" Here Frederick William broke off to testify to the excellence of the food in Holland.
"Many people here do not think so,"
some one interjected.
"Oh, I think it is fine," said the former crown prince. "Anyhow, I am a small eater and do not wish to get fat."

Frederick William was quite accessif-ble to the newspaper men, and said he did not know how long he would re-main on the island of Wieringen. When he reached the main depot at Amster-dam, he partook of coffee and bis-cuits.

The party was in charge of a Dutch lieutenant and included besides the former crown prince, Majors von Muller and von Muldrner and Capt. von Beltitz, who were with him when he entered Holland as a refugee. The former crown prince wore a brown sporting suit with a gray cap and brown leggings and occupied a first-class compartment in the rallway train.

PARIS READY FOR PEACE DELEGATES

Americans Sent to Conference Will Find Chancellery Completely Organized.

PARIS, Nov. 27. (By the Associated Press.)—When the American delegates and their staffs arrive in Paris for the peace congress, they will find a complete chancellery organized for them. This is being arranged under the direction of Joseph C. Grew, former counselor of the American embassy in Vienna, who came to France with Col. House, but who now is specially concerned with preparing for the American delegation.

Divisions of international law, geography, economics, personnel and intelligence already have been organized and when the staffs arrive every man will have his place in divisions ready to function.

will have his place in divisions ready to function.

The divisions of international law and geography probably will be the most important branches bearing directly on the work of the peace congress. The geography section will be concerned with the boundaries of new Europe. For this purpose it has assembled an exceptionally complete collection of maps showing all stages of development and change in the various countries affected by the war.

The international law section embraces legal advisers who have assembled much material on all international questions which will be placed before the congress. The intelligence section deals especially with present conditions in the various countries.

Much of this preparatory work has been done by an executive committee under Col. House, consisting of Messrs. Lippmann and Miller and Dr. Medes Is coming to Paris.

The initial work of this committee was done with a large force of experts at the American Geographical society in New York, but the results are now taking practical form in the American organization for the congress.

IMMENSE STORES OF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—Demobilization of the military forces will leave in possession of the government enormous stores of clothing. The amount of clothing and equippage on hand for the use of the army on Nov. 1, 10 days before hostilities ceased, is shown in a report made public today by Brig.—Gen. Robert E. Wood, acting quartermaster-general.

Included in the list of articles of clothing on hand and not in possession of the troops on Nov. 1, were in round numbers: 5,000,000 cotton coats 6,000.000 owolen coats, 4,000,000 overcoats, 3,000,000 pairs of shoes of all types, 46,009,000 pairs of stockings and 5,000,000 blanicets.

Some of this large supply of clothing, all of which and even much more would have been needed had the war continued through the winter, will be used before the troops can be demobilized.

Some will be retained for the regular establishment, officers said, and the

WILL DECIDE ON PLAN FOR BIG RIVER MEET

WILSON TO RETAIN EXECUTIVE RIGHTS WHILE UPON TRIP

President Will Not Delegate Any of His Duties to Others, But Will Use Wireless and Cables to Continue Government Affairs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 .- No weight is attached by President Wilson to the argument of critics of his plans for attending the neace conference that upon crossing the sea he loses the right to perform executive duties and must allow them to devolve upon the vice-president.

It was said officially today that the president will administer the duties of his office as completely aboard ship and from Paris as though he were in the United States. He holds that there are no constitutional difficulties and wireless and gable communication solves the physical 'problem.

Secretary Tumulty instead of being a member of the neace earty will remain in Washington throughout the president's absence and conduct the affairs of the White House offices as usual. He will be in constant touch with the executive, and expects to submit by cable or wireless matters to be green, which is expected Tuesday. son to the argument of critics of his plans for attending the neace con-
